Hi Suzanne-

I understand you are interested in having a therapy dog come to the office for a de-stress visit. I have a wonderful Newfoundland named Torrey who is certified with the Alliance of Therapy dogs. I have taken her to both high and college campuses during finals week to help alleviate the stress. The students love it and Torrey is a gentle giant who loves being petted. I have also taken her into my office on occasion during a stressful proposal!

Torrey and I would love to come to your office once a month or whatever schedule makes sense. I have found that an hour or an hour and half session works best. Anything longer than that, is a bit much for Torrey.

Let me know if you are interested in Torrey and I coming into to visit your team. My schedule is fairly flexible.

Amy and Torrey

I would like to begin a therapy dog program at my place of work in downtown Denver. My goal is to set up visits once per month for several dog-handler teams to visit to provide much needed stress relief to employees. Thank you.

Suzanne
